

Phil Douglas Keeps New York Giants In Flag Race

PITCHERS PLACED ON BLOCK BY GIANTS DELIVER; COUCH IS BEST PERFORMER

Quick Says Former Ogden Player Is Best Pitcher in National League; Pillette Also Forges to Front; Toney Has Been Disappointment

GEORGE CHADWICK, Correspondent of The Standard-Examiner, July 22.—As the season stands today Phil Douglas, placed on the block by the New York Giants, is the main attraction of the season. The structure that is being built by the Giants toward another championship, there have been instances like it in baseball but few like it in the history of the game. Douglas is injured or loses the chances of the season to repeat the victory of 1921.

A bargain it might have been to have succeeded in the Giants. It might even have been a bargain to get him. But could he have got him. That's the question. The Giants have been openly stated that Douglas is the New York club more than any player on the team. It is asserted by the New York club that just because he has been so successful in the past, he need not think he could be so successful again. The Giants have been openly stated that Douglas is the New York club more than any player on the team. It is asserted by the New York club that just because he has been so successful in the past, he need not think he could be so successful again.

BARNES ON BLOCK. The best in the National seems to be Barnes. He is running away from the Giants. His arm is good and his judgment is better. If he can play his way without injury he will rival Pillette for the best record. Each of them had a season last year in the Pacific Coast league where Couch looked so much better than Pillette.

Scouts laughed at Frank Navin when he gave up his $40,000 or so for Pillette and Johnson.

ATGAT AT NAVIN. "They put it all over poor Navin," said one old hawk who runs around the country looking for ball players. "This here Pillette I saw, and I wouldn't give a thousand dollars for him."

This here Pillette, who could win only 13 games for Portland and lose 30 in 1921, has won 10 and lost 4 for Detroit and has succeeded in packing the Detroit ball park with spectators and in assisting in putting the Detroit baseball club in such a position in the race that if they had another Pillette the Detroit would be crowding on the heels of New York and St. Louis, and they aren't far behind in this position.

Couch has done better than any other pitcher on the Cincinnati team and three National league clubs who turned him down because he wasn't good enough for them are wondering what would be considered the logical definition of scout.

BE ADAMS, MARANVILLE AND BEE PITTSBURG PIRATE STARS

of the year showed the way to the Giants.

Maranville has the old fighting spirit. He imbued his teammates with it. As a result the Pirates have been a pretty tough team to beat ever since Maranville joined the club.

Other Pirates who might receive some consideration are Outfielder Bigbee and Pitcher Babe Adams, who, despite his years, is still a great pitcher.

MEADOWS OF PHILLY

There is no question as to who is the most valuable player on the Philadelphia Athletics.

For several years he has been regarded as just so-so. He was regarded as a fast gun, but he was not a great pitcher.

He is now in the art of pitching. He is a student of human nature. He is a student of the game. He is a student of the art of pitching. He is a student of the art of pitching.

ROTARY CLUB GOLFERS WILL MIX IN MATCH

Ogden Forces Prepared For Keen Competition With Salt Lake Sharks.

Golfers of the Salt Lake Rotary club will invade Ogden next Wednesday. This was the announcement last night of Charles A. Day, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Ogden Rotary club.

Thirty-two players from each club will mingle on the green at the Ogden Golf and Country club immediately following the luncheon of the local club Wednesday. Other players may be added to this list, according to Day.

The Salt Lake Rotarians will be the guests of the Ogden Rotary club members at the weekly luncheon at the Weber club prior to the team match.

The challenge of the Ogden club hurled at the Salt Lake last week was accepted and resulted in final arrangements for the match being made. The contest is the first of this nature ever scheduled in the state's history.

Louis Crook, golf professional at the Ogden club, will have charge of the tourney.

Chairman Day announced last night that the Ogdenites were confident of grabbing the victory.

The tentative lineup of players for the big battle follows:

SHORTSTOP IS PROBLEM

Jinx Camps on Players Who Hold Down Place For Ogdenites.

The shortstop has been the big problem of the Ogden baseball club of the Northern Utah league for the past two years. During the 1921 season the shortstop was the big problem of the Gunners, this position being the one which caused more chin music than any of the other positions on the club.

The 1922 season has been no exception.

Last year O. Johnson was not deemed fast enough for the position after a trial. Osborne was later given a chance to display his wares. Treseider, a second baseman, was the third chap to attempt to pick "em up and slant 'em to first.

Alvin Snodgrass, until a few weeks ago a member of the Gunners, was the next victim of the shortstop. He gave way to Harry Brown, an outfielder, now playing with the Flint club of the Michigan Ontario league. Brown played a fair game at short, but failed to cause any real excitement, kicks and misplays being recorded regularly by the Gunner.

During the 1921 season the Gunners used five men in this position, all having the "jinx" attached to their work.

When the 1922 season opened Bobby Evans displayed rare ability at the shortstop. Bobby was picking "em up and playing a rattling good game at this position. After taking part in two games he broke his right ankle and was out of the game for several weeks.

George French attempted to hold down the position but despite the fact that George gave the club all he had he looked the ball at critical times. French was then moved to third. Percy Chavez being secured to hold down the shortstop. Chavez was released after a short trial here.

Evans is back in his old position and although Bobby was not completely recovered from his injury, he is beginning to play better ball. Evans is also a keen stickler and should be able to drive in runs for the locals.

Local fans are now discussing the shortstop with reference to all former shortstops. They are wondering whether or not Evans will be able to chase the "jinx" at this position, which has been hanging around with the Gunners for two years.

The ball players say Evans will rout the jinx; if he does it means a stronger team.

COURT DECLINES TO STOP RING BATTLE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 22.—Supreme Court Justice Swayzee today declined to issue warrants for Benny Leonard, Lew Tendler and Tex Rickard, leading figures in the boxing bout scheduled for Benny's Thirty Acres next Thursday evening.

Herbert C. Gilson, representing Jersey City ministers and the Society of New Jersey for the Prevention of Crime and the Promotion of Morals, applied for the warrants on the ground that the contest would be a prize fight and violate the state law.

Declining also an application to prevent the boxing bout, the court held that it had not been shown that the principals had yet committed any violation of the law and until they had the court could not act.

WORRY FOR MOLLA... MUST DEFEND NATIONAL TENNIS CROWN

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, national champion (center), Mary Browne (left), May Sutton Bundy (right).

BY BOB DORMAN.

CALIFORNIA is determined to wrest from the east the laurel wreath of the women's singles championship, now resting on the brow of Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory.

To that end the California Lawn Tennis association has announced through its president, Dr. Sumner Hardy, that Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Mrs. Mary K. Browne and Miss Helen Willis will be sent east to compete in the play which will begin Monday, Aug. 14, on the grounds of the West Side Tennis club, Forest Hills, Long Island.

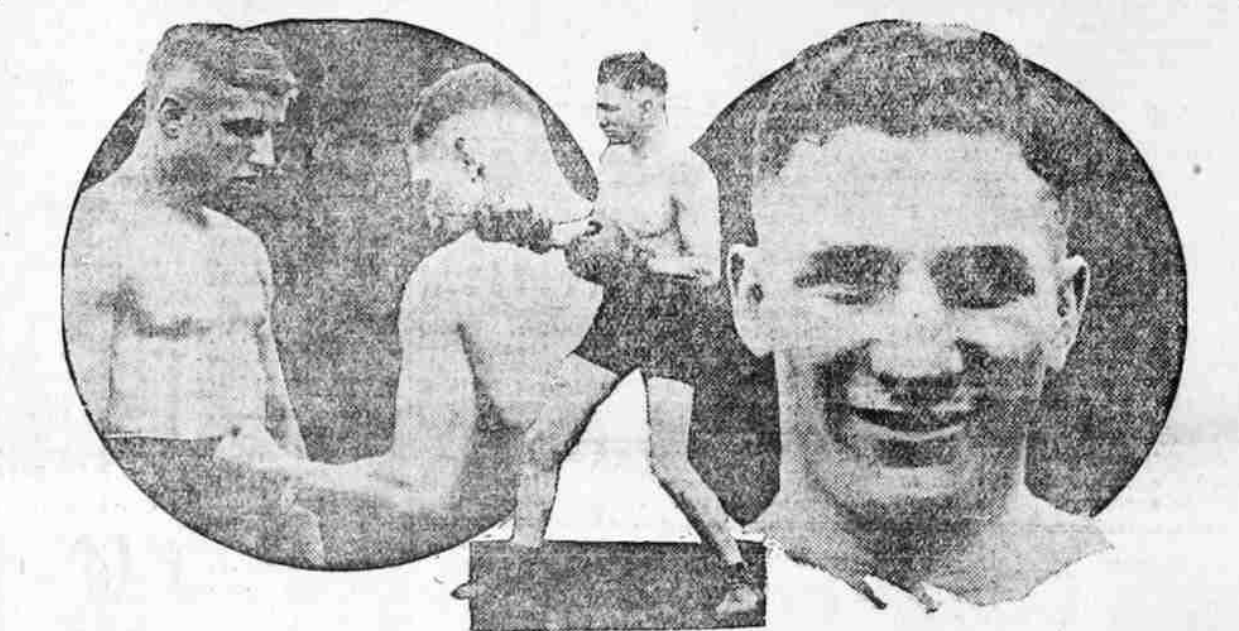

Mrs. Bundy, better known to the majority of tennis fans as May Sutton, already has held the title once, while Mrs. Mary K. Browne took down the honors three successive years, in 1912-13-14.

Miss Helen Willis is the young player from San Francisco who was the sensation of the tournament play of last season.

She swept through the eastern courts like a meteor, and many expert followers of tennis would not be surprised if she were to carry off the stellar honors of this year's championship play.

The winner of the women's championship will have her name inscribed on the Wissahickon cup, which now bears the names of Mrs. George W. Wightman and Mrs. Franklin I. Mallory.

LEONARD'S RIGHT WILL BE USELESS AGAINST SOUTHPAW TENDLER

(Left) Tendler illustrating how he lands his famous left punch to the so omach; (center) how he looks facing an opponent; (right) a closeup of the challenger.

BY BOB DORMAN.

DELANCO, N. J., July 22.—Lew Tendler is hard at work here developing his left smacker, which he says he will win him the lightweight title.

He is leaving nothing undone that will tend to put him in shape to remove the burden of the crown from Benny Leonard's brow when they meet on the night of July 27 in the arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City.

Tendler is confident he will be returned the victor.

He says:

"I hope to wear Leonard down with crashing lefts to the body and then drop him with the same punch. It's worked on lots of other fighters and I believe it will work on Benny Leonard."

"Boxing as I do with my right hand and right foot forward, I will have two hands to his one."

WILL WATCH RIGHT.

"His left mitt will be useless to him for offense. He can use it only on the back of my neck or shoulder, or if he wants to, he can slam me on the top of my head."

"His right, which is his dangerous hand, is the only one I will have to watch."

"But Benny had better watch both my hands."

"Another advantage that my style of fighting gives me is the fact that I have been suspended. I am not fighting any complaint with regard to financial trouble."

"I expect to lay off for a few weeks and may forsake baseball until next year. If I am able to get back into shape I may rejoin the league, but not as a member of the Peaches. I have picked my last game for Brigham. Although I have been suspended, I have hopes of having the suspension lifted in order that I may join one of the other teams."

"I expect to catch on with one of the other teams. The national champion raced through his 1921 Davis cup team mate and Williams' position was the short end of 6-1, 6-3, 7-5 sets."

In the doubles final, Tilden frequently acted in the role of a spectator, as his partner, Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, was the target, but his team had sufficient power and steadiness to overcome the youthful Philip Bettens of San Francisco and Carl Fischer, of Philadelphia, 6-1, 8-6, 6-7, 6-0.

De Blowitz, Paris correspondent of the London Times, after hearing the reading of the preamble and last two sections of the treaty of Berlin containing several thousand words, was unable to write it from memory, without making a mistake.

KELLER LEAVES PEACH OUTFIT

Young Chucker Says He Is Through With Champs of First Half.

Lloyd Keller, star chucker of the Brigham club of the northern Utah league has pitched his last game for the Peaches. Keller informed the sports editor of The Standard-Examiner of his decision Saturday afternoon in person.

Keller joined the Peaches prior to the opening of the 1922 season and has won 10 games and lost four. This is the best record of any chucker in the league and all the more remarkable considering the fact that the "kid" is playing his first season in fast company.

One of his performances was a no-hit-no-run game against the peppery Utah Oil nine of Salt Lake.

Keller failed to put in an appearance at the Brigham park last Wednesday when the Peaches met Smithfield. The "kid" said Saturday that he had previously informed Slim Hall, Brigham manager, that he would not be able to be on deck as he was suffering with a sore arm.

Since that time the Brigham club has suspended Keller and his brother Jess.

SORE ARM.

"My trouble was not over financial difficulties, entirely," said Keller. "My right arm was in a bad shape during the final games of the season and I agreed to work until the close of the first half with the understanding that I was to be carried by the club until I was fit and able to again get back into the game."

The final five games in which I pitched I suffered with a sore arm. In the game against Ogden in which I was to be carried by the club until I was fit and able to again get back into the game.

"I believe that my sore arm can be attributed to overwork. I worked in every game of the season with one exception, and the weakened condition of my arm forced me to take a rest."

FORD LEADS TRAP STARS

Gus Becker of Ogden Is Second in Averages For Six Months.

Ernie Ford, state champion at trap shooting, tops all of the Utah gunners in averages just released by the American Trapshooting association on registered targets with a mark of 9623. Ford broke 815 out of 880 targets and sets the pace for local and state shooters.

G. L. "Gus" Becker is next in line with a mark of 9571, having shot at 2215 targets and shattered 2120. Sam Sharman of Salt Lake, with a mark of 9546, is next in line, while Chick Reiley, Jr., of Salt Lake, is next with 9527. Sharman has shot at 4225 targets and has shattered 4129. Reiley has shot at 1165 targets and has busted 1110.

The averages include all registered shoots for the first six months of the present year.

For the same period Frank Troch, sensational shooter, has hung up a record of 9283, having broken 4580 targets in 4560 attempts.

Don Morrison, former Utah professional, tops the shooters of California with a mark of 9534. R. A. King of Delta, Colo., has turned in an average of 9705.

MASTERFUL TENNIS PLAYED BY TILDEN

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 22.—Masterful in every detail was the tennis display which William T. Tilden II, of Philadelphia, set off at the expense of R. Norris Williams II, of Boston, in the final round of the Longwood bowl singles at Chestnut Hills this afternoon.

The national champion raced through his 1921 Davis cup team mate and Williams' position was the short end of 6-1, 6-3, 7-5 sets.

In the doubles final, Tilden frequently acted in the role of a spectator, as his partner, Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, was the target, but his team had sufficient power and steadiness to overcome the youthful Philip Bettens of San Francisco and Carl Fischer, of Philadelphia, 6-1, 8-6, 6-7, 6-0.

FRATERNAL CONGRESS MEETS IN MONTREAL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 22.—The National Fraternal congress of America, comprising 96 societies with a combined membership of more than 2,000,000 will hold its annual convention at Montreal, P. Q., August 29-31, it was announced today. Montreal is the home of the president of the body, Henry Roy.

The congress reports that nearly 300,000 members recently have been added to its rolls. The officers, and the actuarial, press and medical sections of the congress will meet August 28, the day before the convention proper opens.

When lost in the woods the first thing to do, experienced woodsmen say, is to sit down, compose yourself, review the general direction you have taken from your starting point, the landmarks, and figure out the approximate time elapsed since leaving the last of these. This may bring to mind how to get back to the last of these and set you right.

EXPECT GREAT CROWD AT BG FISTIC EVENT

Tendler-Leonard Card May Draw 75,000 Fight Followers

By SPARROW M'GANN
Special Correspondent of The Standard-Examiner
(Copyright, 1922, by The Standard-Examiner)

NEW YORK, July 22.—There is every indication that crowd falling short of the Dempsey-Carpenter crowd by only ten or fifteen thousand will sit in at the battle between Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler for the lightweight championship of the world at the big wooden bowl in Boyle's 30 acres in Jersey City next Thursday night.

Public interest in this contest which will go 12 rounds if both fighters stick, with no decision, it being illegal in Jersey to render a verdict, is keener than that evinced over any pugilistic contest since the heavyweight championship of the world was decided more than a year ago. This chiefly because Benny Leonard stands in public estimation as the one of two real fighting champions that we possess, with Dempsey coming the other.

LOGICAL OPPONENT.

By his record, Tendler, the Philadelphia left-hander, is the logical contender for the title, and, as matters now stand, the only real contender.

In this case only under discussion no one on the inside has any feeling other than that Leonard will fight as he has never fought before. For one thing he and Tendler have never met before. For one thing he has never fought against a left-hander. Again, Leonard is a left-hander and Benny has not been altogether home against southpaws. He has denied this, but the fact is as stated. Still, again, the best of feeling does not exist between the two. Often fighters take so-called "grudge fights," but it really does look as though Tendler and Leonard are not friendly.

Additional interest is supplied by the fact that Leonard is not so strong at the lightweight limit of 135 pounds as he is when he enters the ring at catchweights. Past battles have seemed to indicate this, as for instance, the knockdown and count of nine he took against Richie Mitchell. On the other hand, the writer watched him closely the other day when he got on the scales and the beam registered half a pound over the limit. He looked finely trained. It is true, but he was hard as nails and in his subsequent bouts he was full of energy and hit like a trip-hammer.

FAVORS LEONARD.

The writer after looking over both boys and basting what he has seen upon memories of the two fighters in recent fights believes that Leonard will win. He has hard punches in both hands, while Tendler relies a lot upon his left. Benny's footwork is superior, and he is the better boxer. The fight may go the limit with Leonard leading all the way, of course this may be the wrong slant but that is the way it looks. It would not be surprising were Tendler to fall to go the 12 rounds.

TWO N. Y. BOXERS ON HOSPITAL COTS

NEW YORK, July 22.—Two boxers were in hospitals in the metropolitan district today suffering from injuries received in bouts Friday night.

At Newark, N. J., Jack Crawford, 19 years old, featherweight, collapsed in his dressing room after his eight-round scrap with Tommy Gerard. Since then he has been unconscious, and his condition was reported serious today, with a possible skull fracture. The head injury was attributed to the fall in the dressing room, brought on by exhaustion.

Harry White, 22, of Brooklyn, junior lightweight, was injured while sparring with one of his partners in a gymnasium, falling unconscious to the floor of the ring. He, too, has failed to revive and his condition was described as critical. Police have held his sparring partners for investigation.
